17 On September 19, 2005, the United States Magistrate Judge
18 filed a recommendation that defendants' motion for summary
19 judgment be granted and this action dismissed. The 20 recommendation advised that objections were to be filed within 15
21 days of service. On September 29, 2005, plaintiff filed a motion
22 to extend time within which to file objections. By Order filed
23 on October 27, 2005, the Magistrate Judge extended the time 24 within which to file objections for 30 days from the date of 25 service of the Order. On November 28, 2005, plaintiff filed a 26 notice of change of address and further advised that he will not

1 receive his property for approximately three weeks. Plaintiff
2 requested that the court hold this case "in abeyance" until 3 plaintiff can obtain his legal documents from the prison
4 authorities in order to file objections to the recommendation.

5 Because the court has already granted an extension of time
6 to file objections, the court will not allow an open-ended period
7 within which to file objections. However, given plaintiff's 8 recent transfer from one prison to another, the court grants an 9 extension of time of 30 days from the date of service of this 10 order to file objections to the recommendation filed on September 11 19, 2005.

12 IT IS SO ORDERED.
